Ducks Are Scarce

Well, the duck season has arrived; but not the ducks, apparently; at least not many, as shooters report a general scarcity. The local bird-chasers have devoted considerable time since the season opened to the sport, getting out at 4 a.m. in an effort to shoot them going to feed and visiting their evening feeding haunts, with but small results.

Various reasons are given—one being the before-season hunting, making the birds wary and hard to get at when the legal season opens. Another reason given is the all-devouring crow, of whom much has been heard of late. Shooters are agreed that the date set two years ago, Sept. 15, for the open season for this province is altogether too late, and they apparently have good legitimate grounds for their complaint.

Decline in Potato Prices

The potato market has developed a sliding tendency, says the Market Examiner, and dealers are quoting prices about $2.50 a ton lower than they were last week. The cause of the decline is the increase in receipts since the rain, the farmers having busied themselves by digging spuds in the wet weather and now they are marketing them. At present the market has an unsold feeling.

About one hundred Lutheran young people gathered at the fair grounds on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27.

The occasion was a rally of all Lutheran young people's societies in the district. Stony Plain, Golden Spike, Blueberry, Spruce Grove and Edmonton were represented.

The afternoon program consisted of songs and games; a splendid address on "Why are we here?" was rendered by Mr. E. Golz. The following resolution was passed by the rally gathering:

Whereas, we have the biblical injunction "Seek ye the peace of city;" and

Whereas, our method of seeking the peace and welfare of city and country is to keep informed on public questions and to vote conscientiously; and

Whereas many voters are indifferent to the public welfare and elections;

Therefore be it resolved that we Lutheran young people gathered at a rally in Stony Plain, consider it every citizen's serious and religious duty to keep informed and to vote conscientiously and specifically at all, and therefore also at the coming Dominion election.

Supper was served at St. Matthew schoolhouse at six o'clock, to which all did ample justice.

The divine service in the evening was largely attended, and was conducted by Prof. A. Rehwinkel, M.A., B.D., of Concordia College, Edmonton.

RED ROSE COFFEE "is good coffee"

Confidence—A National Keystone

Evidence accumulates of the tremendous impetus which the 1925 crop of Western Canada is giving to business throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, while paving the way for still greater increases and expansion. Almost every day the daily newspapers tell of some new record established. Both the C.P.R. and Canadian National are loading larger numbers of cars daily with grain than ever before in their history, with the result that the stream of wheat pouring into the terminal elevators is surpassing anything hitherto experienced in this country.

The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co., the largest initial wheat handling company in the Dominion, if not in the world, recently took in 1,200,000 bushels in one day, where as in no previous year did it quite reach the one million bushel mark.

Another most gratifying feature of this year's crop is that the actual yield per acre is not only coming up to the earlier estimates, but, taken on the whole, those estimates are being exceeded. In the matter of grade, too, the out-turn is highly gratifying, this year's crop grading higher than in any previous year. Not only is a very high percentage of contract grades, but at least half of the contract grades in Saskatchewan is reported as No. 1 North.

The large increase in wheat production in Canada this year, the satisfactory yield per acre, the good grade, and the substantial price is becoming well known throughout the United States, where the crop this year has fallen away below the average. As a result a movement of United States farmers to Western Canada has already begun.

The 1925 crop has also provided a final and conclusive reason for such an old established concern as the Hudson's Bay Company to take active steps to carry into effect its pre-war policy of extending operations throughout the West. The H. B. Company has, therefore, commenced building operations on a new $5,000,000 store in Winnipeg, is enlarging its store in Vancouver, has purchased additional property to provide extensions at Calgary, Edmonton and Saskatoon, and has just concluded the purchase of an extensive site for a store in Regina.

These are some of the outward and tangible evidences of the renewed confidence in Western Canada which is now felt by everybody. That restored confidence is, in fact, the most valuable asset of all. It means more to our people and to this country and its future than all the millions of dollars of new wealth which the crop itself represents.

While the West was passing through the past few trying and difficult years, there was an all too general tendency towards pessimism and in the direction of decrying the country itself. When times are rather hard, and people are looking at the blue side of things, they are apt to forget that all countries have periods of depression, and that every year cannot be a "good" year. This year's crop, however, has demonstrated that Western Canada, as a country, is all right, and as a result the people are taking heart. There will be no boom, but there will unquestionably be a newer and firmer confidence.

And confidence is, let it be repeated, a real and vitally important national asset. Lack of confidence on the part of the people of Canada individually has, in the past, been an outstanding national weakness. In the planning and execution of great national undertakings Canadians have displayed confidence, but all too frequently in their individual capacity and enterprises they have been timid and fearful to venture. Such lack of confidence has been more in evidence in the East than in the West, although this section of the Dominion has not lacked croakers and prophets of blue rain.

This year the West is not only proving to its own people what it can do, but it is demonstrating to all Canada and the world at large that under normal conditions it can provide the means to keep all the wheels of industry turning.

New Holstein Sales Service

Prospective Buyers Notified Where Cattle Are For Sale

The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, through their fieldman, Mr. R. M. Holby, Port Perry, Ont., are providing a special sales service for prospective buyers of Holstein cattle. It is intended to help the small breeder by letting prospective buyers know where cattle are for sale.

The fieldman will visit established herds and report on the cattle offered for sale, as far as humanly possible, in order to give buyers definite information on the quality and breeding of the cattle offered.

Supremacy Of the Air

New British Seaplane is Capable of Great Speed

The Napier S-4 which is the secret seaplane built at Southampton for the British entry in the Schneider air cup race at Baltimore, is now ready for shipment to the United States. The utmost secrecy is still preserved, but it is capable of speed of considerably more than four miles a minute. The machine has monoplane wings built in one piece and no fabric is used, the only materials being metal and wood. The propellers are metal and the design throughout is entirely novel. The British hope not only to win the cup, but to gain definite air superiority.

A Tale Of Shipwreck

Bottle Message of Tragic Import Is Found After Many Months

On a little island in the centre of the Indian Ocean, far from the steamship lanes, may be lying the bones of five seamen, saved from drowning when the Mary A. Bolling, of Philadelphia, was wrecked in a storm on March 13, 1924, according to a dispatch from Brussels.

A nurse at a sanatorium at Eresdore, near Ostend, found in the sands a bottle containing the following message: "Sailing ship Mary A. Bolling, from Philadelphia, wrecked in storm March 13, known latitude 33 east, longitude 10 south. Five were saved but will starve unless somebody comes soon. Please notify grandfather, P. S. Woods, 4105 Walnut Street, Philadelphia. For God's sake hurry."

The bottle, with its message of hope, travelled many thousands of miles before it was picked up in Belgium.

Thief Returns Valuable Watch A year ago, burglars entered the home of E. F. De Bower, Chicago, president of the American Academy of Letters, through a window and stole jewelry, including a specially made $800 wrist watch that enabled Mrs. De Bower, who is blind, to tell the time. There was said to be only one other watch like it in Chicago. The other night the same window was ransacked and a package pushed through. It contained the watch and this note: "Jim Connors is doing, was you to have this and pray for him. His pal."

Public Shooting Grounds And More Bird Sanctuaries Have Been Established On Prairies

The department of the interior has recently set aside a number of public shooting grounds in the prairie provinces, and has added eleven bird sanctuaries to those already established there. These actions are not contradictory but complementary parts of the general plan of migratory bird conservation. Migratory birds are deemed so valuable from the standpoint of food supply, the combating of weed and insect pests, and (so far as game birds are concerned) as a means of healthful recreation, that they are protected on both sides of the international boundary under the terms of the migratory birds treaty, entered into by Canada and the United States in 1916. As one of the objects of keeping up and increasing the numbers of game birds is to provide healthful recreation for our own citizens and, further, since an important factor in attaining those objects is the co-operation of sportsmen, it was deemed advisable to prevent the complete alienation of such Dominion lands as offer facilities for shooting, and this has been done by setting aside permanent public shooting grounds in suitable localities. These shooting grounds are situated as follows: Six in Manitoba, twelve in Saskatchewan, and thirty-two in Alberta. The difference in the numbers in the various provinces is compensated for, generally speaking, by the greater size of the individual areas in Manitoba and Saskatchewan as compared with those in Alberta.

It is well known to sportsmen and bird-lovers that the prairies and great plains regions contain the most important breeding grounds for wildfowl on the continent. This area embraces, speaking roughly, the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and a strip of territory along the northern border of the contiguous part of the United States. Here thousands of marshes and reedy lakes form the immense protected food and security for all kinds of waterfowl, but the progress of settlement, with the consequent draining of swamps and marshes, tends steadily to reduce the area of these breeding grounds, thereby lessening the number of wild fowl and even threatening the extinction of some species. To prevent such an occurrence suitable areas have been set aside as bird sanctuaries, that is places where birds are suitably protected and may thus increase in numbers. The department of the interior has established seven sanctuaries in Alberta and eleven in Saskatchewan; and in Manitoba the federal forest reserves have been set aside as bird sanctuaries under the provincial game act. Besides these, the Dominion Government has a number of sanctuaries in British Columbia and Eastern Canada, all of the foregoing being administered through the Canadian National Park Branch of the department. The provinces concerned have co-operated in respect to these refuges, and in addition other sanctuaries have been established by provincial governments, and in some cases by private individuals, all of them tending to the conservation of this important natural resource.

New Species Of Gladioli

Considerable progress has been made during the past few years by E. M. Palmer, at Cowichan Bay, in B.C., in the cultivation and propagation of new species of gladioli. In his garden, Mr. Palmer has at present growing about 150 different varieties, but having been secured from all parts of the world, even Central Africa contributing its quota to this wonderful collection.

Wheat Pool Contracts

As an example of the magnitude of the work being done by the Canadian Colonization Association, it is worthy of note that the largest contracts at the present wheat and coarse grain pool in Saskatchewan, were signed up by groups of Minnesotans located on lands through the medium of the association, which properties are expected to deliver a quarter of a million bushels of wheat to the pool.

He who is sorry for having aimed is almost innocent.

Beef Raising in Canada

Profitable Age and Weight of Cattle For Slaughter

Dealing with the most profitable age and weight of cattle the bulletin on "Beef Raising in Canada," published by the Dominion department of agriculture, remarks that the days of the heavy bullock are past and that the life of the steer is gradually shortening. Still the weights or will command a good price for the export trade, provided the lot of good meat formation and well-fatted. Finish is what is looked for in the market and is as much appreciated in the butcher's bullock of 1,100 pounds as in the export weighing 1,500 pounds. Approval of this, a remark in a recent livestock branch market report is worthy of observation. Packing houses are receiving large numbers of western killers, it says, but are saying but little about the quality other than finished beef. Most of the finished beefers marketed by up-to-date Ontario feeders are from twenty to thirty months old and weigh from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds.

To Grade Rams in Manitoba

Work Will Be Done By Dominion Livestock Branch Graders

The annual fall sale of the Manitoba Sheep and Swine Breeders' Association has been set for October 21 and will take place at Brandon. Winter Fair Building as usual, announced Secretary J. R. Rottle.

Pure-bred hogs and rams will be sold, pure-bred female stock and also grade stock, it is expected.

An innovation this year is the grading of rams according to the star system in use in Saskatchewan. All rams offered for sale are required to be graded by Dominion livestock branch graders and must be of three or two-star standing. It is pointed out in connection with the swine section that breeders from the United States are expected to attend the sale in large numbers than has been usual, thus giving an opportunity to dispose of good breeding stock in greater quantity.

Horse Has Another Rival

Work of Four Done By One Cylinder Motor Plow

The horse, rapidly being displaced in cities and on farms by automobiles and tractors, has a powerful rival in a one-cylinder motor plow, said to do the work of four of the animal toilers at half the cost. The implement, introduced on an English farm is readily handled by one man, and owing to its compact construction, can be driven into corners and close to fences generally inaccessible to horse-drawn tools, resulting in increased plowing space and a saving of hand work to turn the soil. It requires little attention for upkeep and consumes a small supply of fuel, besides relieving farm hands of the constant care required by draft animals—Popular Mechanics.

Pipe Has Nip It Stem

Smokers who find difficulty in cleaning their pipes will be interested in a new invention whereby a pipe can be fitted with a stem that is split in halves, and so can be taken apart easily for cleaning. The two parts are held tightly together by a decorative metal band that serves as a threaded part of the stem nearer the bowl. The makers of this new pipe declare the stem to be leakproof.

New Wheat Disease

"Take-All" Disease Has Been Discovered In Different Parts of the West

A fungus disease known as "Take-All of Wheat," has been found in the wheat fields of Northwestern Saskatchewan during a survey by the Dominion laboratory of plant pathology under Dr. W. F. Fraser, Saskatoon.

The disease varied in severity, many fields being free or showing only a trace of the disease, while others showed 10 to 50 per cent of diseased plants, says Dr. Fraser. It has also been found in wheat fields not far from Edmonton, and has recently been reported from Northern Manitoba. As far as is known at present, the "take-all" disease is confined to the park country, only traces being found in the prairie region.

"The disease is caused by a fungus which attacks only the underground parts of grasses and wheat," says Dr. Fraser. "The young plants may be killed or the injury to the roots of the stem causes the plants to be stunted. The disease is most easily noticed at the time the healthy wheat plants begin to ripen. It usually occurs in spots, where the plants are much stunted and of a pale white color, while the healthy plants are green. The heads are small and the kernels are absent or much shrivelled. As many of the wheat seedlings have been killed in the early stages, the wheat is thin in the diseased spots. There may be many of these spots in a field. The diseased wheat is usually pulled out, as the roots and base of the stem is decayed. The lower part of the stem, or just below the surface of the ground, is dark or black in color. This dark color is usually best seen by pulling away the sheath. Sometimes small dark spots may be seen attached to the sheath or roots."

"While the disease is serious, there is no need for alarm. From all the evidence obtained, it seems the disease is present on native grasses, and when the land is broken it passes to wheat through the soil. There is no spread from plant to plant in the air, as in the case of rust. Infection takes place only through the soil, so that the spread from field to field, except by soil or stable transfer, is not probable."

Canadian Foxes For Norway

Prince Edward Island Breeders Ship 200 Live Foxes

One of the largest shipments of live foxes for export ever to leave Prince Edward Island, left recently for New York for trans-shipment to Norway. The shipment comprised 200 foxes in all, with a gross value of $40,000. Several small shipments of animals were consigned to Norway last year, and this large order has followed the success which the Norwegian breeders have had with those animals previously sent from this country.

Advertising on postage stamps has been permitted by the Italian Government. The advertisers agree to turn over sixty per cent of their receipts for the privilege.

Canada's pre-eminence as the "soft-woods storehouse of the empire" is fully impressed on the mind of visitors to the British Empire exhibition at Wembley, England, by the large and comprehensive exhibit of the forestry branch of the department of the interior.

Canada, with her more than one million square miles of timber lands covered with forests containing about 150 tree species, produces the most structural timber in the world as well as woods for many other industrial purposes, and this fact has been vividly brought out in the Wembley display.

Prominent in the exhibit is a wonderful array of 184 panels of 48 different woods, most of which is demonstrated in the exhibit in large quantities. The woods are grouped according to character, each group being separated by various exhibits of structures and articles made of these particular woods. As part of this feature of the exhibit great rolls of Canadian newspaper are shown. Near by is a group of giant timbers which includes two solid blocks of Douglas fir, each twelve feet high and practically five feet square; a segment of Douglas fir eleven feet in diameter, and a timber sixty-four feet long, sixteen inches wide, and eight inches thick.

The history of Canada's forests is also eloquently told on the walls, where the panels and wall cases in a series of stage settings, showing the growth of the lumber industry throughout the past four centuries, the stages of its development being represented by the explorers, the pioneers, the raftsmen, and the steam-tugboats. Four mural paintings tell the story of the journey of the log from the forest to the mill, and two large pictures in wood mosaic depict lumbering scenes in Western Canada.

In the industrial section is exhibited a comprehensive group of articles manufactured from wood, ranging from a complete bungalow of two rooms, and giant elms for the storage of farm produce, to wooden toys.

The exhibit has attracted a great deal of attention as shown by the large crowds which have constantly gathered about it and by the many inquiries made of the attendants, and also by the numerous articles and paragraphs that have appeared in the British press, and there is no doubt that in this making known the quality and range of Canadian forest products to the citizens of the empire, the exhibit will aid powerfully in the development of this great industry.

Corn Growing In Western Canada

Saskatchewan Grows About 100,000 Acres of Corn Crop

Corn is steadily gaining in popularity throughout the west, and is an aid to diversified farming and it is estimated that 100,000 acres were grown in Saskatchewan last year. Although seed was scarce last year and the price rather high, the acreage will probably be slightly lighter this year than last. The average acreage of corn grown by the corn growing farms in about 10 Minnesota Number 13 and North Dakota White Flint are the brands most favored in Saskatchewan.

The increasing favor with which corn is regarded by the farmer is well shown by the increasing sale of corn growing implements. In 1930 the implements sold did not attain the total of 25, while this year approximately 40 corn knives of similar value were sold, besides cultivating machinery.

A Long Stretch Of Binder Twine

An idea of the extent of Alberta's harvesting operations this year may be gathered from the fact that practically two million miles of binder twine will be required, an increase of 50 per cent over the quantity used last year. In other words, twice enough will be needed in this province alone to encircle the earth more than 73 times.

114,340,000 In United States

The population of the United States on September 1 was 114,340,000, according to a treasury department estimate. The population on September 1, 1924, had been estimated at 112,923,000.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog. Is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Nepeese, the Indian prince, in trying to lure the hare from under the boulder where he sought to hide, was caught by the moving stone and screamed in terror. Her father, Pierrot, the French-Indian trapper, rescued her. Before that Nepeese had gone enough to Baree to atone him, and he found she was a friend, not an enemy. But Baree was still young and untrained and again he fled, for the sight of human beings was still strange to him.

CHAPTER X.

Just as in the life of every man there is one big, controlling influence, either for good or bad, so in the life of Baree the beaver-pond was largely an arbiter of destiny. Where he might have gone if he had not discovered it, and what might have happened to him, are matters of conjecture. But it held him. It began to take the place of the old windfall, and in the beavers themselves he found a companionship which made up, in a way, for his loss of the protection and friendship of Kanan and Grey Wolf. During this fortnight that followed Baree-tooth's exploit on the dam Baree ate his meals a mile up the creek, where there were plenty of crawfish. But the pond was home. Night always found him there, and a large part of his day. He slept at the end of the dam, or on top of it on particularly clear nights, and the beavers accepted him as a permanent guest. They did not exist in his presence as if he did not exist.

One afternoon, when the toboggan was particularly wet and slippery from

HER NERVES BETTER NOW

Received Much Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ontario.—"I started to get weak after my second child was born, and I kept on getting worse until I could not do my own housework and was so bad with my nerves that I was afraid to stay alone at any time. I had a girl working for me a while ago, but I was able to do my own work again. Through a friend I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it. I gave birth to a baby boy the 4th day of September, 1932. I am still doing my own work and am in good health. I don't feel well every day because I can't get my rest as the baby is so cross. But when I get my rest I feel fine. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and am going to keep on with it until cured. My nerves are not better since taking it. I can stay alone day or night and not be the least frightened. You can use this letter as evidence and I will answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."

Canadian Archer Wins In England

Belleville, Ont., Man Makes Good Showing In Sport Almost Unknown Here

Archery is a sport almost unknown in Canada, although it is practiced more or less in the United States, but in England it still holds an honored place on the calendar of sports and pastimes. Major Farley, of Belleville, Ont., recently won the gold medal in competition with the best archers in England and Scotland at London. At Bath he won the championship of the West of England, receiving a gold medal and a magnificent challenge trophy. In another competition at Bath, Major Farley won the special prize donated by the mayor of the city. The Grand National was shot for at Oxford where the Canadian archer was also victorious, winning a huge challenge trophy and a gold medal four inches in diameter, which dates back almost one hundred years. Various other competitions were won by Major Farley while abroad.

Tells Why He Can Now Eat Hearty

"A letter which I read in the paper about Carter's Little Liver Pills fixed my own case so closely that I could not help trying them and am very happy I did." So writes Mr. Frank J. Trumbull of Jersey City, N. J. "After years gone on to say, I had heard about Carter's Little Liver Pills for years but never knew they helped overcome poor appetite and sour stomach, until I read about another man in the same plight who took Carter's with good results. I tried them and can honestly say that they freed me of many gas on stomach, so that I can now eat without getting bilious, and they improved my appetite fully 100%." You can rest assured that from now on I will boost Carter's Little Liver Pills whenever I can."

ly where not even the winds might carry it to the ears of Dush McTaggart. They feared him; they hated him. They died of starvation and sickness, and the tighter Dush McTaggart clenched the fingers of his iron rule, the more meekly, it seemed to him, did they respond to his mastery. His was a small soul, hidden in the bulk of a brute, which revolted in power. And here—With the raw wilderness on four sides of him—his power knew no end. The Big Company was behind him. It had made him king of a domain in which there was little law except his own. And in return he gave back to the Company furs and bundles of furs beyond their expectation. It was not for them to have suspicions. They were a thousand or more miles away—and dollars counted.

Gregson might have told. Gregson was the investigating Agent of that district, who visited McTaggart once each year. He might have reported that the Indians called McTaggart Napao Weetkoo as he gave them out his fair price for their furs; he might have told the Company quite plainly that he kept the people of the trap-lines at the edge of starvation through every month of the winter, that he had them on their knees with their hands at their throats, putting the truth in a mild and pretty way—and that he always had a woman or a girl, Indian or halfbreed, living with him at the Post. But Gregson enjoyed his visits too much at Lac Bain. Always he could count on two weeks of coarse pleasures; and in addition to that, his own women-folk at home were a rich treasure of dirt that came to them from McTaggart.

One evening, a week after the adventure of Nepeese and Baree under the rock, McTaggart sat under the glow of an oil lamp in his "store." He had sent his little pippin-faced English clerk to bed, and he was alone. It was just six weeks ago that Pierrot had brought Nepeese on his first visit to Lac Bain since McTaggart had been factor there. She had taken his breath away. Since then he had been able to think of nothing but her. Twice in that six weeks he had gone down to Pierrot's cabin. Tomorrow he was going again. Marie, the slim Cree girl over in his cabin, he had forgotten—just as a dozen others before Marie had slipped out of his memory. It was Nepeese now. He had never seen anything quite so beautiful as Pierrot's girl.

Audibly he cursed Pierrot as he looked at a sheet of paper under his hand, on which or at an hour or more he had been making notes out of work and duty Company ledgers. It was Pierrot who stood in his way. Pierrot's father, according to those notes, had been a full-blooded Frenchman. Therefore Pierrot was half French, and Nepeese was quarter French—though she was so beautiful he could have sworn there was not more than a drop or two of Indian blood in her veins. If they had been all Indian—Chippewyan, Cree, Ojibway, Dog Rib—anything—there would have been no trouble at all in the matter. He would have bent them to his power, and Nepeese would have come to his cabin, as Marie came six months ago. But there was the accursed French of it! Pierrot and Nepeese were different.

And yet—He smiled grimly, and his hands clenched tighter. After all, was not his power sufficient? Would even Pierrot dare stand against that? If Pierrot objected he would drive him from the company, and from the trapping regions that had come down to him as heritage from father and grandfather, and even before their day. He would make Pierrot a wanderer and an outcast, as he had made wanderers and outcasts of a score of others who had lost his favor. No other Post would sell to or buy from Pierrot if Le Bete—the black cross—was put after his name. That was his power—a law of the Factors that had come down through the centuries. It was a tremendous power for evil. It had brought him Marie, the slim, dark-eyed Cree girl, who hated him—and in spite of her hatred "knot house for him." That was the polite way of explaining her presence if explanations were ever necessary.

McTaggart looked again at the notes he had made on the sheet of paper. Pierrot's trapping-country, his own property according to the common law of the wilderness, was very valuable. The Tablins had been years he had received an average of a thousand dollars a year for his furs, for McTaggart had been unable to cheat Pierrot quite as completely as he had cheated the Indians. A thousand dollars a year! The Tablins had been twice before he gave that up. McTaggart chuckled as he crumpled the paper in his hand and prepared to put out the light. Under his close-cropped shaggy beard his reddish face blazed with the heat that was in his blood. It was an unpleasant face—like iron, merciless, filled with the look that gave him his name of Napao Weetkoo. His eyes gleamed, and he drew a quick breath as he put out the light.

DELEGATES FROM MANY LANDS TO MEET AT OTTAWA

Ottawa.—The meeting here on October 13 of the Inter-parliamentary union will bring to Canada a most distinguished body. There will be coming here from Europe and Asia four hundred delegates, representing thirty-nine nations.

Among them are many of the most prominent statesmen of Europe. The union is to meet for five or six days in Washington and conclude with a plenary meeting of one day in Ottawa. Since the formation of the League of Nations it has worked in close co-operation with that body. Its membership is composed entirely of parliamentary representatives, and is divided into national groups forming the general body of the union.

WESTERN FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR H. B. RAILWAY

Winnipeg.—The following story appears in the news columns of the Winnipeg Free Press:

"If the Dominion Government will hand over the Hudson's Bay Railway as it now stands, from Hudson Bay Junction to Port Nelson, along with any improvements that have been made in shipping facilities, a Winnipeg-St. Boniface syndicate will finish the road with private capital, according to an offer now before Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways.

"The syndicate has offered to put up a million dollars as a guarantee of its good faith. The road would be finished within two years of the signing of the contract.

"The syndicate seeks the following from the government:

"Winnipeg grain interests are said to be interested in the syndicate which has had a man at Ottawa during the last week to press the application.

Want Early Settlement

Chinese Government Opposes British Probe into Shanghai Affair

Peking.—The Chinese Government, replying to a British note of September 1, opposes a judicial inquiry into the Shanghai affair of May 30, and charges that the British proposal for such an inquiry has delayed settlement of the incident. Several Chinese were shot by police of the international settlement of Shanghai on May 30, during a demonstration in favor of striking employees of Japanese cotton mills.

The Chinese note expresses the opinion that since the facts of the Shanghai affair already have been jointly investigated by delegates of the Peking diplomatic body and discussed at several conferences, appropriate action at the present juncture would be to utilize the findings of these delegates, together with the report of Chinese delegates, as a basis and to start negotiations forthwith with a view to securing an equitable solution at an early date.

Says Cassair Field Is Second Klondike

Editor of Alaska Weekly Predicts Early Development

Seattle.—The Cassair mining district in British Columbia, lying just across the Canadian border from Alaska, is due to take the place of the Klondike in the course of the next few years, in the opinion of Frank J. Cotter, editor of The Alaska Weekly, who has just returned here after a four months' trip into that district.

"I make this statement after a four months' tour of the entire district," he said, "which is unquestionably the most wonderful country to be found to the north of Seattle.

"The showing that the country is able to make with the extremely limited equipment now available is surprising. And it will be even more surprising within the next two years—because in that time the mine camps all will be equipped with the most modern machinery.

"A couple weeks ago, just before coming out, I was on Discovery Gold Pan Creek and saw the last clear-up made in gold. It was all yellow, nugget gold, and enough to make a full pack for a strong man."

BRITAIN TAKES STEPS TO CURB RED CAMPAIGN

London.—The persistent outcry of the press and the public for stringent measures against communists and other "red" propagandists and agitators, who allegedly long have been stirring up unrest among the British workers and trying to sow a mutinous spirit in the army and navy, seems to have borne fruit and induced the government to take steps in the direction demanded.

The offenders have been numerous, and it is reported that a general round up of them will take place in a few days. It is said the government already had decided to deport about fifty foreign reds allegedly involved in mischievous propaganda.

As an outgrowth of several conferences between the home office officials and the chiefs at Scotland Yard, orders have been given for an energetic campaign to remove the offenders, many of whom are foreigners. The police in the big press and the public have been called upon to co-operate with the Scotland Yard men. The eyes of the police are to be focused on "reds" of British nationality who are asserted to be working for pay in the interests of the Bolsheviks.

Bidding For British Trade

Empire Committee Will Be Invited To Visit Canada

Toronto.—The problems that await solution in placing on the markets of Great Britain, Canadian produce on a scale far greater than has heretofore been attempted were discussed at length at the Ontario Parliament Buildings, when representatives from other provinces conferred with the agricultural inquiry committee of the Ontario Legislature.

Various aspects of the situation, as related to different kinds of produce, were gone into, and before the conference closed a resolution was passed requesting that at the earliest possible date, members of the executive of the Imperial economic committee should be invited to Canada to consult with representatives, both provincial and co-operative, of the agricultural industry, and that the arrangements necessary be made by the federal department of agriculture.

Mon. Dr. Jamieson, chairman of the agricultural committee, occupied the chair, and Hon. John A. Martin, minister of agriculture, welcomed the representatives, expressing at the same time the opinion that Canada was not keeping pace with other countries in capturing British trade.

Commander Opposed Flight

Lakehurst, N.J.—The Shenandoah was ordered on her final flight to the west, September 2, in spite of recommendations of Lieut. ### Huge Seizure of Narcotics

Tampa, Fla.—Federal agents captured eighteen, including the alleged "king" and six aides of high-ups in a gigantic dope ring during the night, involving virtually all southern states and seized $1,000,000 worth of narcotics, which is only a small portion of what is expected to be taken, according to the agents.

Warships On Cruise

Here is the Summer Home of Mister Jack Frost Himself

THIS is the Ice Cave in Mount Sir Donald, near Glacier, B.C. The light of the sun streams in through the opening at the far end causing the frozen walls to glisten as though built of a thousand times ten thousand diamonds. It is rumored that this is the official summer residence of Jack Frost himself, to which the Chilly Monarch retires for his annual nap from spring time to autumn.

And this is a scene from Mr. Frost's private grounds, on the roof of the world in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. It is here, so we understand, that Mr. Frost spends most of his time when not asleep in his Cave. For a pastime he enjoys most of all riding around on chunks of floating ice and his favourite food is a good, deep crackly slicker which he prefers coated with a generous frosting of newly fallen snow. When the winter comes and the nights are long and dreary he lets out a wild whoop of joy (as we are told), jumps on a passing snow cloud and sails away over the continent, pushing down mercury's and heaping up snow drifts wherever he goes.

But after all, nobody takes him very seriously these days, for it would be a tiresome old world to live in if Friend Frost didn't come along once in a while and give us something to contrast with the summer.

Here and There

All tourists' records, motor cars, are being broken at Banff, Alberta, this year. More than 17,000 cars were registered by the first of August with the big run yet to come. As many as 2,000 were under canvas at one time in this Government auto camp ground.

Maple sugar and maple syrup production in Canada during the season of 1925 amounted to 9,791,269 pounds and 1,672,093 gallons, respectively, with an aggregate value of $6,828,418. This compares with an output of 9,385,415 pounds of maple sugar and 1,970,696 gallons of maple syrup during 1924. Quebec province accounted for over 90 per cent. of the production of maple sugar and over half of the output of maple syrup.

Production of the four basic industries of British Columbia during 1924 aggregated in value $210,692,730, as compared with $207,934,041 in the previous year, according to a statement issued by the Provincial Government. The 1924 production was made up as follows, with 1923 comparative figures in brackets: Forest products, $89,702,000 ($89,674,400); agriculture, $30,029,224 ($29,139,798); mines, $48,704,604 ($41,204,320); and fisheries, $21,255,905 ($20,795,923).

Canada's ordinary revenue for the four months of the present fiscal year ended July 31 last, shows an increase of $2,933,163 over the same four-month period last year, according to a statement made by the Department of Finance. Ordinary revenue for the four months of 1925 amounted to $141,729,416. Ordinary expenditures during the four-month period show a decrease from $96,545,541 in 1924 to $95,055,692 this year.

George H. Ham, known throughout Canada as the Grand Old Man of the Canadian Pacific, celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday on Sunday, August 23rd, and was the recipient of a deluge of congratulatory messages from all parts of the country. Butter exported from Canada during the twelve months ending June, 1925, amounted to 25,096,120 pounds, valued at $3,934,794, a decided increase over the figures of the previous year when exports amounted to 18,668,379 pounds, valued at $5,081,084, according to a report issued by the Federal Department of Agriculture. Shipments were made to the United Kingdom, the United States, South America, South Africa, West Indies, Australia, China, Japan, Germany, Belgium, Cuba, Holland, New Zealand and many other countries.

James Oliver Curwood, the well-known American novelist, who crossed not long ago to Europe on the "Empress of France" and returned a few weeks later to Canada on the "Empress of Scotland," wireless the following message from the "Scotland" to the Canadian Pacific headquarters in Montreal: "Can never fully express my appreciation of the splendid treatment accorded me by Captain Gillies and Captain Griffiths, and the staffs aboard the 'Empress of France' and the 'Empress of Scotland.'"

A party of British journalists is now touring Canada at the invitation of President E. W. ### Threshing Items

Threshermen sure have been having their troubles this season, as owing to the unseasonable weather, it has been hard to get three good days in a row. The season has been lengthened out considerably on this account, much longer than was figured on at the beginning. What will help out some is the fact that a number of farmers have stacked, and are stacking, now when weather permits. About the only ones getting any advantage from present conditions are farmers fortunate in having clear fields, and are busy plowing.

A crop report, issued Sept.
28 by Dept. of Agriculture says: "At present scarcely more than 25 per cent. of threshing is completed. Wet weather has had a tendency to toughen the grain. In a few districts, grain in stock has sprouted."

A notice has been issued by the Dept. of Agriculture, notifying threshermen they must have their machines registered every season. This applies to all makes and sizes, and whether the owner threshes
"out" or not.

The Noxious Weeds Act says: Every thresher shall clean his machine inside and out and all wagons and racks before removing the machine or any part thereof to another place. Penalty $50 and costs for each offence.

J. Klemoska, a farmer of Leduc district, was charged in the police court with having perennial sow thistle on his place and neglecting to take steps to eradicate it. He was given a nominal fine.

Fatal Accident Near the Grove

A sad fatality occurred in Spruce Grove district last week, whereby Martin Todd,
a well known farmer there, lost his life. He had been engaged in clearing land and was blasting some stumps. A fuse attached to one charge had been lit several times, but had not fired. Deceased went over to find out the cause, was seen to kick the fuse with his foot, when the explosion occurred. Mr Todd was blown into the air, alighting on his head. His wife was nearby at the time, and on examination it was found his right side had been injured by the impact. He died within fifteen minutes, and before medical aid reached him.

The funeral was held on Friday last. Service was held in St Joseph's Church, Spruce Grove, and was conducted by Rev Fr. O'Halloran and Rev.
Fr. Kitchin (a former pastor, Interment took place in the cemetery nearby.

A very large number of deceased's friends and acquaintances, were present, to pay their last respects to a highly-respected neighbor and friend.

Deceased leaves his wife and three young children, to mourn his loss. These have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

A Family Gathering.

A very delightful family reunion took place in Stony at the home of Mr and Mrs Hy Oppertshausen St. Sunday afternoon last. The guest of honor was Miss Clara Oppertshausen, who is leaving shortly to resume her work as nurse in Portland, Oregon.
Music and games helped pass
a pleasant time.

Among those present were Assemblyman and Mrs Wa-burn and children; Mr and Mrs Geo Rehkopf, and children; Mrs G. Forbes and children; Edmonton; Mr and Mrs Pfeiler, Edmonton; Mr and Mrs Geo Oppertshausen and children; Mr and Mrs Henry Oppertshausen Jr and children; Mr and Mrs Oppert-
